

THE REVIEW

BY JACK & MIZE.

REAR ADMIRAL J. P. C. DEKRAFFT died yesterday morning at his home in Washington.

It is amusing to hear John Sheridan denounce the rebels and pray for the election of Wile in Virginia.

G. V. HILL'S chances in New York did not look very bright ten days ago, but the result will not be a cyclone.

FREDERICK H. WINSTON, of Illinois, was on yesterday appointed minister resident and consular general to Persia.

FERNAND WARD gets ten years in the penitentiary. It is a great pity that it was not thirty, and he could live to endure it.

ROSCOE CORKLE repudiates the interview attributed to him, but some of his old time republicans say that "he means it if he did not say it."

THERE is quite a division among the republicans of Chicago. About one-half of them are convinced that their nominees for the county board should be defeated.

The other day 100 men were discharged from the Brooklyn Navy yard. The like was never known to occur during the past twenty years, on the eve of election.

THERE seems to be some difficulty in reorganizing the civil service commission. Thirty-five hundred dollars a year is not a very tempting offer to the class of men the president desires to appoint.

SOME of the mungwump and literary fellows among the republicans of New York turn up their noses at John Logan's bad grammar, but John is recognized as a hustler by all parties out here in Illinois. The New York mungwumps are hard to please any how.

THE president yesterday appointed Wm. A. Mahony to be collector of customs for the district of Ferdinandina, Florida; Geo. A. Hesse to be surveyor of customs for the ports of Memphis; Walter Goddard to be collector of customs for the district of Fairfield, Connecticut.

WILL the New York laboringmen go to the polls and vote for the millionaire, Davenport? It is neither a sin or a crime, per se, to be rich, but in the present campaign it would be as ridiculous for laboringmen to support Davenport, as it was for them to support the widow Butler.

GENERAL GEORGE B. MCCLELLAN died at his residence, Orange Mountain, about midnight on Wednesday, of heart disease. He had been under the care of a physician for a couple of weeks, but nothing serious was expected until he was taken worse a few hours before his death. The news of his demise was received with deep expressions of sorrow at New York yesterday, and flags on public buildings were lowered to half mast. At Washington the president has ordered the flags on all buildings of the executive department at half mast until after the funeral.

The Home Circle Club.

The members of the Home Circle club were entertained last evening by Mr. Guy Parke, at his home on West William street, in honor of Miss Charlotte Gillett, who has been visiting with Mrs. Parke and family for some time. The evening was spent principally in dancing, and the numbers were neatly arranged on tasty programmes, on the back of which appeared a quotation from "The Mikado." "I've got it on the list. Sh! Don't whisper so loud." The programme embraced eighteen numbers of society dances, for which the opera house orchestra furnished music, playing nearly all new selections. Refreshments were provided for the occasion. Dancing was continued until after midnight, when the guests departed with expressions of pleasure, and assuring their host of having enjoyed the occasion most thoroughly. Those in attendance were:

Misses Harriet Howell, Alma Koehler, Cora Chambers, Dora and Lou Walston, Belle Burrows, Mabel Alexander, Charlotte Gillett, of Elkhardt, Grace Macaughy, Alice Tuttle, Nellie Dora, of Charleston, Lela Race, Alice Priest, Laura John, and Messrs. Bert Hardy, Lou Race, Ed Powers, Guy Parke, Harry Hays, Arthur Alexander, Ed Judson, Charles Henderson, Walter Strange, Joe Alexander, Fred Henderson and Bering Burrows.

Cheaper than the Cheapest.

At Bachman Bros., where the big elephant hangs out, the finest parlor suits, rattan furniture, and everything needed for housekeeping can be had. Also the finest folding bed lounge in the market with rollers attached that when opened it can be rolled to the door or window. If you want good furniture at the very lowest prices, go to Bachman Bros., south side City park, c25d&wlm.

A fine constitution may be broken and ruined by simple neglect. Many bodily ills result from habitual constipation. There is no medicine equal to Ayer's Pills to correct this evil, and restore the system to natural, regular and healthy action. c28d&wlm

The arm of a man at Tarrytown, New York, rcted off close to the shoulder and healed over completely. He intended to have the limb amputated, but the doctor's wife wouldn't let her husband have the back-saw, with which she sawed stove-wood, for fear it would dull the saw and hurt himself. This probably saved the lives of both doctor and patient.—[Newman Independent.

A partially intoxicated man fell overboard from a boat the other day, and after being fished out of the water looked around and asked, "Where is my hat?" The hat was nowhere to be seen. "I guess," said one, "it must have sunk." "I wonder what made it sink?" the owner grumbled. "Probably because there was a brick in it." There was no more said.

Spencer, Lehman & Co. have secured the exclusive agency of the celebrated Peter Schuttler wagon, which is universally regarded as the best. It requires some enterprise and no little confidence in the public for a firm to purchase the best and highest priced wagons in the market by the car load, where their competitors are handling a cheaper and inferior grade of goods, but Spencer, Lehman & Co. believe the best wagon in the world is none too good for their customers. sld&w2m

The Sullivan Progress, of yesterday says: "A very bold attempt at horse stealing was made in Sullivan last evening, about 8 o'clock. The thief entered Grant Camfield's stable and proceeded to put saddle and bridle on his five riding horse. Just as he had the horse fully equipped, Mr. Camfield appeared on the scene, but unfortunately he was carrying a lantern which revealed himself to the thief who sprang out at the door, using a large knife to keep the way clear. Grant shot at him twice but did not succeed in checking his gait."

The Tabernacle team and the Actives played a game of polo at the rink last evening. There was a good attendance and much interest was manifested. Polo is a good deal like the old fashioned game of "shinny." Each club has a goal at the end of the rink, and endeavor to drive the ball through the one guarded by their opponents. Five innings are played, the side driving the ball through the goal three times being counted the victors. A small rubber covered ball and crooked sticks are used. The members of the two clubs playing last evening, appeared in neat uniforms for the first time.

What You Want to Know.
Everybody wants an honest answer to this simple question—What is the best medicine to regulate the bowels, cure constipation and biliousness, and give strength to the whole system? People ask us this every day. We answer, Parker's Tonic. It is pleasant to the taste. All the children like it. Mothers all praise it. It will save a hundred times its cost in every family. Governor Oglesby's Absent Mindness.
The story is told of the German philosopher, Lessing, that, ringing his own door-bell one day in a spell of absent-mindedness, said, when the servant told him Mr. Lessing was not at home, "Well, I'll call another time."

Some amusing stories are told on Gov. Oglesby, and he was almost as absent-minded on Tuesday when he and Mrs. Oglesby made a few hours' call in Lincoln. They separated on getting off the train, and the governor was soon seated in the Lincoln house dining room chatting busily with the hostess, and when just ready to dip into the meal he exclaimed, "Well, I left Mrs. Oglesby down in town!"

He went and presently returned with his better half, whom he had come within an ace of forgetting. They intended to go home on the 2:50 train, and Mrs. Oglesby, more thoughtful than her spouse, did go, but the governor, chatting in an interesting manner with old friends, missed it, and had to go down on a freight.—Lincoln Times.

The average length of life is on the increase. The science of medicine has made great progress; many diseases are now controlled that were formerly thought incurable. The greatest discovery in Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure, which cures consumption in stages that other remedies are of no benefit. Coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all throat and lung diseases speedily and safely on Dr. Bigelow's and Dr. Little's Remedies.

When the Knights of Labor give an entertainment it may always be relied on as an enjoyable one, as they have never yet made a failure.
—B. F. Taylor, the poet and lecturer of New York, lectured at the opera house last night under the auspices of the Women's Relief corps. His subject was "Motive Power." Mr. Taylor is not a pessimist, he believes and shows that the world is ahead of getting worse, is growing better in every way. His lecture, in thought, was elegant; in diction, almost perfect. He is not an orator in the strict sense of the word, but one of the most entertaining platform speakers in the country.
—The Arlington hotel of this city, is greatly improved under the present management, and is having a most excellent run of patronage. It is well located, being west of Central park on Water street, where the street cars pass every 7 minutes. Mr. B. E. Thomas is the proprietor, and having had the hotel thoroughly renovated and everything put in order, and being personally affable, it is no wonder that the house is becoming one of the most popular in the city.

—Illinois Central bridge carpenters arrived here yesterday morning, and at once commenced the work of enlarging the company's ticket office. Howard Shimer, the agent, has moved with his tickets to the telegraph office, where he will transact business until the improvements are complete. The enlarged office will be a great convenience to him, but the traveling public, and especially the ladies, will have to suffer. The office will be extended into the ladies' waiting room, which always has been too small for the accommodation of passengers.
—Mr. James F. Harner, editor of the Taylorville Democrat, is one of the oldest Odd Fellows in the state, and not only stands high in the order, but also in the estimation and good will of his triple link brethren. In his paper of this week, he says: "The Degree Staff of Celestial Lodge No. 186, I. O. O. F., of Decatur, by special invitation of the grand master, will be present at the meeting of the Grand lodge in Springfield next month, and exemplify the entire secret and floor work of the subordinate branch. This will be a feast worth going to see, and every Odd Fellow should avail himself of it."
THOROUGHBREDS IN THE SALE RING.
Fine Horses of the Late Samuel Powers Sold at Public Auction.
The farm of the thoroughbreds of the late Samuel Powers attracted quite a number of horsemen from different sections of the country to the public sale of stock yesterday. The sale was conducted by Captain P. C. Kidd, of Lexington, Kentucky, and I. W. Ebrman, of this city, as clerk. Captain Kidd is one of the best auctioneers in the country. He is to the public horse sales of Kentucky what Col. Judy, of this state, is to the cattle sales—the best that is to be had. There were thirty-one head cataloged, and besides these there were a number of grade colts and work horses, and grade Alderney cows, heifers and calves. The whole sale aggregated $11,836.

OPENING ARGUMENTS.
The Durbin Murder Case Thoroughly Commenced.
About noon yesterday the tiresome task of selecting a jury to try Charles Durbin for murder, was completed. The men accepted being D. E. Yates, Truman Crissey and Charles E. Bobb, of Decatur; Jerome Culp and John A. Conley, of Illinois; Thomas Wright, W. R. Hoffman and S. W. Grider, of Niantic; Harry K. Medkiff, of Boody; Samuel Bradshaw, of Harrisonville; Marcellus Alexander, of Macon; A. Rowland, of Blue Mound. All of the jury expressed themselves as not being opposed to capital punishment, if convinced beyond a reasonable doubt of the guilt of the accused.
The opening statement in the case was made by City Attorney Mills, who is assisting State Attorney Vail in the prosecution. He gave an account of the circumstances connected with the case, and caused considerable speculation by the statement that an unknown but important witness would be produced by the people.
When court convened at 2 o'clock, Attorney Ashcraft, of Vandalia, opened for the defense, characterizing the address of the prosecution as "remarkable." He had always supposed that in the presentation of a case to the jury it was the province of the attorney for the people to present the case fairly, calmly, truly, and impartially, and not by a labored harangue raise a cry for blood and prejudice the minds against the unfortunate defendant. But he relied upon the judge, who presided to hold up the shield and armor of the law against the howling of a mob! He contended that the prosecution had promised to present facts and circumstances tending to point out the guilt of the accused, that he as a gentleman learned in the law, must know he would not be permitted to offer in evidence. He spoke of the difficulty of procuring a jury, evidencing a prejudice against the defendant existing in the minds of the people, and alluded in pathetic terms to the good character of Durbin in Fayette county, where he was born and raised, and where his aged mother is now awaiting his vindication. He admitted that Durbin was surrounded by a number of suspicious circumstances, but stated that the defense would be able to effectually vindicate him from all taint.
The examination of witnesses was commenced about 3 o'clock, the first one to go on the stand being Edward Drobn, who testified to the time, place and circumstances of finding the remains of the infant on the banks of the Sangamon. He was followed by a young man named Collins, who was also present when the body was found, and Col. E. W. Anderson, a member of the coroner's jury that inquired into the cause of the infant's death.
The jury is in charge of Constables Weitzel and Harris.
It is understood that an effort will be made by the defense to impeach Solomon Shively, who has been considered one of the leading witnesses for the prosecution.

The Illinois Central railroad will run an excursion to Martin and Jackson, Tennessee, and Canton and Jackson, Mississippi, leaving Decatur at 5:45 p. m., November 17th, 1885, at a very low round trip rate. Col. Robert Gates, assistant commissioner for Tennessee, has arranged for a detour from Jackson, Tennessee, to the following interesting points in middle Tennessee, at a rate of one cent per mile: Clarksville, Springfield, Nashville, Gallatin, Lebanon, Franklin, Pulaski, Columbia, Fayetteville, Lawrenceburg, Winchester, Tallahoma, Murfreesboro, Dixon and Waverly. Free entertainments will be tendered excursionists at all the above points except Nashville. Old battle fields will be visited, and such an opportunity to see middle Tennessee is not likely to occur again. Write for circulars. J. F. Meany, Gen. West Pass. Agt. c30d32.
